Intent of Proposed Project:

What will this honors project focus on and why? Click here to enter text. [This section of the contract should spell out, in as clear and complete detail as possible, the focus and purpose for the honors project. What question(s), problem(s), or issue(s) will the project invest/gate? Why is the subject significant to you in particular, to the world in general? Why are you, the student, interested in pursuing it? What do you hope to gain from the add-on project?]

What form with the final project take?

Click here to enter text: What will the final product of this add-on honors work take? Example: will it be a research paper, an art project, a demonstration, will it produce a tangible product or app, poster board, etc?

Approach and methodologies involved:

How do you plan to pursue the project and what is the planned meeting schedule between faculty and student for the project?

Click here to enter text. [Will it be primarily a matter of library research, field research, experimental design, artistic creation, etc.? Or will it be some combination of approaches? Will it proceed in predictable stages?]

Resources Required: (Please attach a bibliography if available)

What will you need to complete this project?

Click here to enter text. [What materials, sources of knowledge and information, expertise will the honors add-on project require?]

Evaluation Methods:

How will the satisfactory completion of this project be measured by the faculty member?

Click here to enter text. [Will there be periodic conferences with the sponsoring faculty member? Interim or progress reports? Submission of a final paper report? What will be the standard for measuring accomplishment?]

How will the project be presented to an audience? (e.g., public lecture, public demonstration, presentation at a conference, public display, art show, Spring Honors Forum, or other)

How will the process, findings, results or products of the project be publicized? When and where?

Click here to enter text. [The STCC Honors Program requires that projects be shared with some audience - at the very least, other students in ac/ass or other groups with which the honors work was associated.] Note that add-on students are expected to present at least at the Spring Honors Fair.

Additional Comments and/or requests:

Click here to enter text. [You can use this space for further information you and your professor wish to communicate to the Honors Advisory Committee. Should you anticipate any modest financial needs in pursuit of your project you may make your initial request here and the Honors Program will seek funds to support you.]
