[GRADUATING STUDENT SURVEY RESULTS]

Executive Summary

Survey Respondents and Response Rate: 151 graduating students took the survey

In June 2022, students graduating with either an associate degree or certificate were surveyed using an online survey distributed through Qualtrics. Emails were sent out 794 graduating students asking them to complete the graduating student survey. There were 151 usable responses for a response rate of 19%. Of these respondents, 121(80%) are receiving an associate degree and 30 (20%) are receiving a certificate. There were 845 students receiving degrees in FY2022.

Employment Plans: 47% of new graduates are seeking new employment and 15% have already secured new positions

Graduates were asked about their current employment status, which includes military service. If graduates responded that they were either continuing employment or beginning new employment, they were asked about the relationship of their work to their STCC education as well as whether their work is or will be full- or part-time. Of graduates responding to this question, about 74% report being currently employed. About 15% of students have secured new positions as they graduate, whether they were already employed or not. About 47% of graduates are seeking new positions, whether they are currently employed or not.

Continuing Education Plans: 66% of new graduates expect to continue their education

Graduates were asked whether they will be continuing their education within the next year and whether they will do so in a full- or part-time capacity. About 67% of graduates receiving associates degrees plan to continue their education within the year, with most planning to attend a 4-year college or university. About 60% of certificate graduates plan to continue their education, with the majority returning to STCC.

Perceived Educational Preparation: 94% of graduating students feel that STCC prepared them for continuing education

We asked graduates several questions about their educational experience at STCC including their overall preparedness, how their education at STCC had improved their academic and personal skills, and the barriers and supports they experienced in their efforts to complete their credentials. In response to a question about how well their STCC education had prepared them for further education, only four students reported being somewhat unprepared. Over 63% of all award recipients said they were very well prepared.

Perceived Educational Barriers: Family responsibilities, personal and/or health challenges and financial difficulties cited as most frequent barriers to student success

We also asked graduates about the barriers they faced as they worked to obtain their credentials. Approximately 50% of associate degree students experienced either minor or major barriers to their education because of family responsibilities, financial difficulties, personal and/or health challenges and job demands. For certificate recipients, over 50% experienced either minor or major educational barriers to their education because of family responsibilities, personal and/or health challenges, due to not being in school for a long time, and not being academically prepared when they started.

Perceived Educational Supports: Faculty and family support pave the way for success

Finally, we asked students about the factors that helped them succeed in completing their credentials. For students receiving their associate degree, more than 85% cited faculty and/or instructors (in-class time) and in-class experience and activities as being a part of their completion success. For students receiving certificates, more than 96% cited faculty and/or instructors (in-class time) as being part of their completion success.

STCC Graduating Student Survey Results: 2022

Since 2013 the Office of Assessment has conducted a graduating student survey at Cap & Gown Pick-Up. This year, due to COVID-19, the survey was conducted using an online survey tool. All survey questions can be found in Appendix I. (Please note that not all totals equal 100% due to rounding.)

Survey Respondents and Response Rate: 151 graduating students took the survey

In June 2022, students graduating with either an associate degree or certificate were surveyed using an online survey distributed through Qualtrics. Emails were sent out 794 graduating students asking them to complete the graduating student survey. There were 151 usable responses for a response rate of 19%. Of these respondents, 121(80%) are receiving an associate degree and 30 (20%) are receiving a certificate. There were 845 students receiving degrees in FY2022.

Of the respondents who answered the questions on race/ethnicity, 34% identified as Hispanic, 38% as white, and 11% as black; 6% identified as other races or as multi-racial. Race was unknown for 11% of the respondents. The majority of respondents were female (73%) with only 27% identifying as male. At the time of graduation, 3% were 19 years old or younger, 32% were 20-24, 15% were 25-29, and 28% were 30-39, 13% were 40-49 and 8% were 50 or older.

Graduates were asked how long it took them to complete their credentials and from which program they were receiving it. The majority of students graduating with an associate degree graduated in 3 years or less. The majority of students graduating with a certificate graduated in 2 years or less. The list of programs represented by credential type can be found in Appendix II of this report.

Of graduates responding to this question, about 74% report being currently employed. About 15% of students have secured new positions as they graduate, whether they were already employed or not. About 47% of graduates are seeking new positions, whether they are currently employed or not. Many graduates are pursuing further education instead of or in addition to employment.

White students were more likely to not be currently employed by seeking employment (white: 57%, Hispanic: 26%, black: 9%) or currently employed and not seeking a new position (white: 40%, Hispanic: 27%, black: 13%) than students who identify as Hispanic or black. Hispanic and white students were more likely to be currently employed and have secured a new position (Hispanic: 39%, white: 39%, black: 6%) or currently employed and seeking a new position (Hispanic: 34%, white: 34%, black: 17%) than students who identify as black.

Graduating students who reported being currently employed or having secured a new position were asked about their full-time versus part-time status. Twenty-three students had secured new positions as of this survey.

Continuing Education Plans: 66% of new graduates expect to continue their education

Graduates were asked whether they will be continuing their education within the next year and whether they will do so in a full- or part-time capacity. About 67% of graduates receiving associates degrees plan to continue their education within the year, with most planning to attend a 4-year college or university. About 60% of certificate graduates plan to continue their education, with the majority returning to STCC.

I'm not beginning any additional education this year.	33%	40%

More students identifying as white plan to attend a 4-year college or university (white: 40%, Hispanic: 32%, black: 8%). White students were also more likely to respond that they did not have immediate continuing education plans (white: 51%, Hispanic: 25%, black: 8%). Hispanic students were most likely to have plans to continue in another program at STCC (Hispanic: 46%, black: 29%, white: 18%).

Of those students pursuing additional education, about 72% plan to attend full time. Students identifying as Hispanic plan to attend full-time at a higher rate than those who identify as black or white (Hispanic: 71%, black: 69%, white: 68%).

Perceived Educational Preparation: 94% of graduating students feel that STCC prepared them for continuing education

We asked graduates several questions about their educational experience at STCC including their overall preparedness, how their education at STCC had improved their academic and personal skills, and the barriers and supports they experienced in their efforts to complete their credentials.

In response to a question about how well their STCC education had prepared them for further education, only four students reported being somewhat unprepared. Over 63% of all award recipients said they were very well prepared. Hispanic higher levels of being very well prepared to continue their education than black and white students (Hispanic: 78%, black: 62%, white: 52%).

To learn more specifically about the preparation of the graduates, we provided a list of educational and personal skills and asked students to rate how much their STCC experience had improved these abilities. Mean improvement responses were somewhat lower for certificate than associate degree holders, as might be expected given that they have spent less time at STCC to complete their credentials. All mean scores were between 3 (some improvement) and 4 (a lot of improvement). Of all the skills, graduates reported the largest gains in their abilities use computers and common software, mobile devices or internet or cloud-based applications, think critically, research a problem and assess information to address it, better serve my community or society in general, and make and justify decisions. Black and Hispanic students reported the greatest gains in each of these skills.

Perceived Educational Barriers: Family responsibilities, personal and/or health challenges and financial difficulties cited as most frequent barriers to student success

We also asked graduates about the barriers they faced as they worked to obtain their credentials. Approximately 50% of associate degree students experienced either minor or major barriers to their education because of family responsibilities, financial difficulties, personal and/or health challenges and job demands. For certificate recipients, over 50% experienced either minor or major educational barriers to their education because of family responsibilities, personal and/or health challenges, due to not being in school for a long time, and not being academically prepared when they started.

Students identifying as white reported family responsibilities (white: 34%, black: 33%, Hispanic: 29%), personal and/or health challenges (white: 21%, Hispanic: 17%, black: 13%), job demands (white: 18%, Hispanic: 16%, black 13%) and not having a good place to study or complete their work (white: 11%, black: 7%, Hispanic: 4%) as significant barriers more often than students identifying as black or Hispanic. Students identifying as Hispanic reported financial difficulties (Hispanic: 20%, white: 16%, black: 13%), not being in school for a long time (Hispanic: 16%, white: 14%, black: 13%), unclear academic or career goals (Hispanic: 14%, white: 9%, black: 7%), and not enough access to tutors or other academic support (Hispanic: 12%, black: 7%, white: 4%) as significant barriers more often than students identifying as black or white.

Perceived Educational Supports: Faculty and family support pave the way for success

Finally, we asked students about the factors that helped them succeed in completing their credentials. For students receiving their associate degree, more than 85% cited faculty and/or instructors (in-class time) and in-class experience and activities as being a part of their completion success. For students receiving certificates, more than 96% cited faculty and/or instructors (in-class time) as being part of their completion success.

Students identifying as Hispanic identified family inspiration, support, or encouragement (Hispanic: 81%, black: 69%, white: 59%), being a role model for others (Hispanic: 66%, black: 46%, white: 44%), classmate inspiration, support, or encouragement (Hispanic: 62%, black: 54%, white: 41%), faculty and/or instructors (out-of-class time) (Hispanic: 60%, white: 57%, black: 46%), internship, clinical placements, or other career/program-related experience (Hispanic: 49%, black: 46%, white: 44%), and campus activity group or club (Hispanic: 36%, black: 31%, white: 17%) as major success factors more frequently than students identifying as black or white. Students identifying as black identified in-class experience and activities (black: 69%, Hispanic: 60%, white: 50%), other, non-family inspiration, support, or encouragement (black: 62%, Hispanic: 59%, white: 45%), out-of-class homework and projects (black: 62%, Hispanic: 38%, white: 31%), academic advisors (black: 54%, Hispanic: 53%, white: 50%), and college staff (not faculty or advisors) (black: 54%, Hispanic: 49%, white: 37%) as more important for their success than students identifying as Hispanic or white.

Graduate Survey Trends: Writing and math continue to be least improved for our students, difficulty with getting into classes and not enough tutors most common barriers, faculty still leading student success factor

The College now has seven years of graduating student survey data. The graduating student survey was first administered in 2013 and has been done annually at cap and gown pickup. The paragraphs below summarize some of the noteworthy trends for 2022.

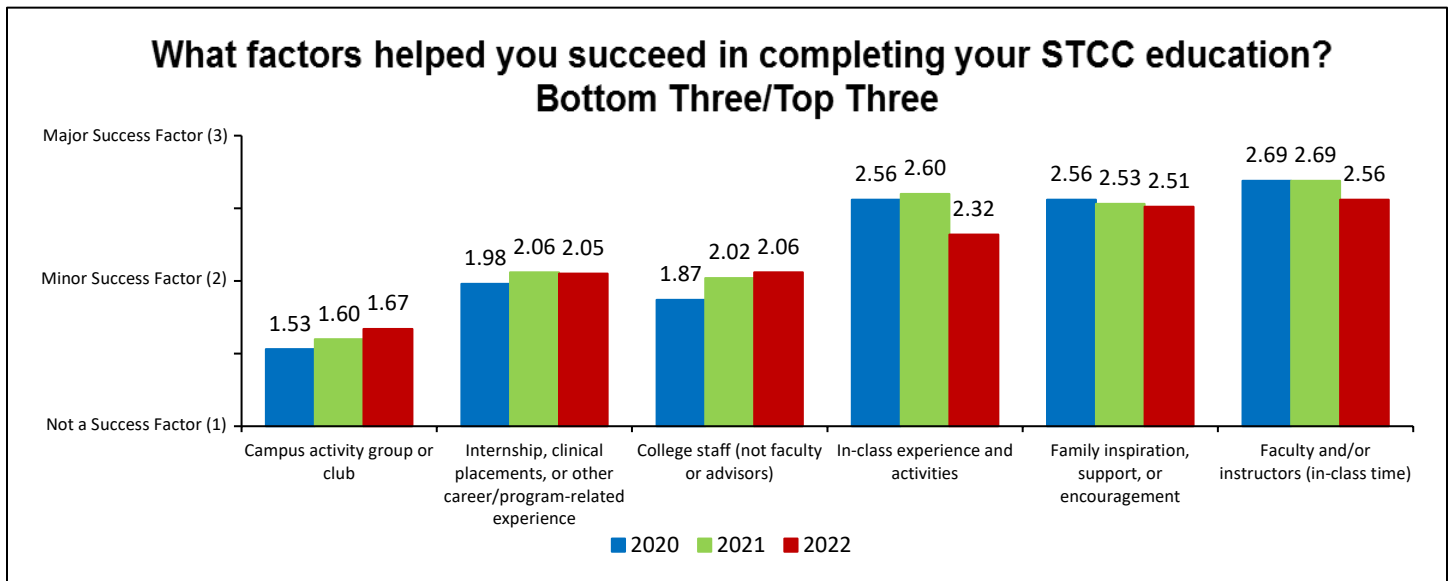

Since the College started collecting data on graduating students, the ability to write clearly and the ability to use math to address day-to-day issues or problems have consistently been reported as the least improved by graduating students. In 2022, using math day-to-day was the least improved with a mean of 3.19 and writing clearly was second least improved with a mean of 3.22. In comparison, the abilities that showed the most improvement in 2022 were using computers and common software, mobile devices or internet or cloud-based applications (3.75), thinking critically (3.73) and researching a problem and assessing information to address it (3.68).

Family responsibilities and financial difficulties have consistently been in the top three barriers to student success at Springfield Technical Community College for the last three years. In 2022, the mean for family responsibilities was 2.01 and the mean for financial difficulties was 1.76. This year, personal and/or health challenges (1.81) was also in the top three. This barrier has not been in the top three since the graduate survey was developed in 2013. In comparison, the barriers that have had the least impact on our students' success in 2022 were expectations were too low (1.32), not enough access to tutors or other academic support (1.31) and difficulty getting into the classes they needed (1.25).

Faculty and/or instructors has been one of the top success factors for our students since the Graduating Student Survey was first administered in 2013. In 2022 the mean for in-class time with faculty and/or instructors was 2.56. Family inspiration, support, or encouragement (2.51) and in-class experience and activities (2.32) have also been consistently in the top three for the last three years. In comparison, the success factors that have had the least impact on our students' success in 2020 were college staff who are not faculty or advisors (2.06), internships, clinical placements, or other career/program-related experience (2.05), and campus activity groups or clubs (1.67).

Appendix I: Graduating Student Survey

Congratulations on your degree! We want to learn more from you to improve the college, programs, and courses so that even more students can be successful at STCC. Thank you in advance for sharing your thoughts and experiences!! As you graduate, you become a STCC alumni member. We hope you will become an active STCC alumni member and continue to provide feedback and guidance to the college. Happy graduation, Class of 2019!

Q1 What is the PRIMARY degree you are receiving? If you are receiving more than one degree or certificate, please answer based on the degree you consider to be your main area or focus.

- Associates Degree
- Certificate

Q2 About how long did it take you to finish this degree or certificate?

- Less than 1 year
- 1 year to less than 2 years
- 2 years to less than 3 years
- 3 years to less than 4 years
- 4 years to less than 5 years
- 5 years to less than 6 years
- 6 or more years
