

STCC offers 5, 10-week summer course sessions

Springfield Technical Community College will offer 5-week and 10-week on campus and online summer classes. Session one begins June 3, and session two starts July 8.

Springfield Technical Community College will offer five-week and 10-week on campus and online summer classes. The first session begins on June 3, and the second starts July 8.

Summer classes are the perfect opportunity for area college students to earn college credit between June and August, says Matthew Gravel, dean of academic initiatives.

"Our summer offerings are chosen to appeal to a broad range of students, and most of the courses offered in summer can be used to fulfill requirements at other colleges and universities," Gravel said. "But classes tend to fill up very quickly, so it's important for students to register as early as possible."

Academic subject areas include accounting, anthropology, biology, business, chemistry, criminal justice, economics, electronic systems, English, graphic communication and photography, history, information technologies, math, medical terminology, music, philosophy, physics, psychology, Spanish, sociology, Spanish and speech.

Class schedules are available online at stcc.edu/summer. Students can register online, by phone at 413-755-4321 or in person at the registrar's office, Student Learning Commons (Building 19), Room 169.
